

Cookie Policy

Complying with the right to information established in Section 2^o of Article 22 of Law 34/2002, of 11 July, on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce, the purpose of this Cookie Policy is to inform you, clearly and precisely, on the cookies we use on the website of Laboratori DAU.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file sent by a website to your browser and downloaded onto your computer. Cookies allow websites to store and recover information about your visit, such as language preference and other options, to improve the services offered and provide you with a better browsing experience.

Cookie consent

In conformance with the cookie warning shown on this website, you accept that by browsing on this site, you expressly consent to the use of cookies as explained in the description below. You may change your browser settings to reject the use of cookies at any time.

Cookie types

Depending on who manages the domain from which cookies are sent and information is processed, a distinction will be made between local and third-party cookies.

Cookies may also be classified by how long they are stored in your browser, distinguishing between session and persistent cookies.

Finally, depending on the purpose for which the information gathered will be processed, cookies may be classified into the following categories:

- Technical cookies allow the visitor to browse a website and use some of the services it offers. For example, the cookies used to remember the items in a shopping cart are technical cookies.
- Customisation cookies allow the visitor to configure certain aspects of the website, such as language.
- Security cookies serve to prevent or impede attacks against the website.
- Plug-in cookies for exchanging social media content make it possible to share content via social networks.
- Analysis cookies allow the controller to track the visitor's behaviour.
- Advertising cookies are used to manage advertising spots on the website.
- Targeting cookies also serve to manage the website's advertising spots according to the information gathered on the visitor's behaviour and habits, tailoring the advertisements to the visitor's profile.
- Geolocation cookies are used to determine the country where the visitor is located.

How to change your cookie settings

You may restrict, block or erase cookies from Laboratori DAU or any other website through your browser. Each browser has a different mechanism; you can find out how to eliminate cookies through your browser's help menu. For more information:
